Ed's Tavern
proudly serves

MillerCoors
products

Back in 1935, Ed Wilczynski bought a tailor shop in Saddle River Township, New Jersey. After renovating the building and purchasing a liquor license, he took a chance and opened Ed's Tavern in the middle of what was then, farm country. At first it was just a dream, but it wasn't long before Ed's became the most popular drinking house in the area.

Uncle Ed always made everyone feel welcome and in doing so, the tavern's slogan quickly became "Ed's Tavern, where new friends meet". He also insisted on keeping it a family run business, himself tending bar for 65 years. Today, 73 years and four generations later, Ed's Tavern is still going strong and is truly a corner stone of north Jersey.

After spending 15 years and countless last calls behind the bar at the original Ed's Tavern, I'm happy to bring the spirit of that Jersey joint to Lakewood Ranch.

So now, in 2008, as homage to my Uncle Ed, I am proud to open Ed's Tavern – South. A local, neighborhood bar, where everyone is welcome and where new friends meet. Our goal is not to imitate, but to recreate the warm, friendly feeling that Ed's Tavern is known for. Whether you're 21 or 101, you are always welcome at Ed's.

Now in the immortal words of my uncle...

"Are you drinkin' or what?"
